

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law protections. The current law has been a God Send. It is very effective. Since the law was passed, my calls have dropped to about 3 a month versus 15 a week. My husband works nights and must sleep in the day. I work days. It's absurd to take the phone off of the hook just so one can sleep.